Johnson and the League.

And lastly, those who have maintained all along that the people of the United States are against participation in a league of nations are encouraged by the vote given Johnson, who in all his speeches denounced the league and treaty with or without reservations. Of the effect in this connection, of the Michigan vote on the hesithat members of congress who must in the yext few days vote on a joint resolution declaring peace there can be liftle doubt.

Encouragement is derived by them from the fact that in mone of the primaries did an avowed expenent of the league of nations exhibit himself and even A. Mitchell Palmer, a Democratic appirant, is quoted as having said in a campaign speech in Georgia that he favored "substantial reservations."

But no matter how much pleasure irreconcilable opponents of the peace creaty may get out of the successful Johnson campaign in Michigan, there is much that is desquieting in it to the regular conservative organization of the Republican party. For, Hiram Johnson is a radical. He fought alongside Senator La Follette, who, by the way, bobs up successfully in Wisconsin seprimaries again. The two men assailed the rich and insisted that they bear the burup successfully in Wisconsin shrimaries again. The two men assailed the rich and insisted that they bear the burdens of taxation. Hiram Johnson is considered by many as much more sound in his views than William Jennings Bryan, but as a campaigner with personal magnetism in his oratory the two have many points in common.

East Discovering Johnson.

The East is just discovering what manner of man is the Johnson who managed to carry a progressive state like California by 250,000, while the regular Republican nomines for president lost the state altogether.

Hiram Johnson's triumph in Eastern sections will send his stock higher out West. Here is an excerpt for instance, taken from the writer's summary of Sopt. 30 hast on political observations made during the menth of September when accompanying President Wilson on his Western trip.

"The people of the West are expecting the issue of the league to be decided clearly. A man who gives his reasons for refusing its see the United States join any league is much more likely to be listened to than a man who says he is for a league with qualifications or reservations that amount to a desire to reject the treat! and league which he seems to hesitate to apy directly. So if the peace treaty is defeated it is Hiram Johnson who will get the credit or discredit.

"If he wins his fight many Republicans will regard him as the most likely figure for president on the Republican ticket, largely, because of the sheer force of his ability to swing the senate East Discovering Johnson. force of his ability to swing the senate ANNOUNCE DATES OF in his favor."

Johnson and Lodge.

Johnson and Lodge.

There can be no doubt that Hiram Johnson kept Semator Lodge and his group of reservationists from accepting the Wilson interpretations of reservations and insisted upon keeping article 10 in such form as would accomplish the nullification of the article itself so far as the United States is concerned The difference is that Senator Johnson admits the covenant was thus rendered innocuous white opnonents of the pact who cling to the reservation idea contend that the league was still preserved. who cling to the reservation idea contend that the league was atill preserved.

President Wison himself is inclined to side with Hiram Johnson—that in effect, article 19 was killed by the reservations and the object of Mr. Johnson was accomplished.

Senator Johnson is on the upward grade. He never will suit the Eastern Republicans because his radicalism or domestic questions is not to their liking. The Roosevelt following is divided by tween Johnson and Leonard Wood. As the calipaign develops, it will be noted that the California senator, who has the calipaign develops, it will be noted that the California senator, who has the article and the california senator, who has the article wing of the Ropadican party while Leonard Wood trads to retain along with the Lower Lie confidence of Republican conscivatives.

But the primaries are inconclusive They show no great thics in assistent with a confidence of the property of discassing with a senator of the presents a constitution of the presents a visual state of the presents and the
